

RESOURCES: FAQs

How do the girls and women come to your programs?

Girls, ages 12-17, come into our residential program through Georgia Cares.

Women, ages 18-32, come into our residential program through various types of referrals (i.e. jail, court, parents, short-term programs, pastors).

Women, ages 18+, come into our Women's Academy through our residential program and through the community. Since this is not a residential program, women just need to meet the intake criteria in order to be a participant.

How many can you serve at a time?

The Girls' Residential Program can serve up to 16 participants at any given time.

The Women's Residential Program can serve up to 16 participants at any given time. Starting March 1 2018, we will be able to house 12 more women!

Each session, the Women's Academy can serve up to 40 participants, 20 for GED track, 20 for career readiness track per 10-week session. There are four 10-week sessions per year.

I want to learn more about trafficking, where can I find more resources?

You can find additional information from Polaris, Thorn, FBI and National Human Trafficking Hotline.

How do I get in touch with Wellspring Living?

Wellspring Living

1040 Boulevard, Suite M

Atlanta, GA 30312

T: 404-948-4673

E: info@wellspringliving.org

I would like to read more stories about survivors, are there any books available?

Yes, our founder and executive director Mary Frances Bowley has written three powerful books filled with amazing success stories. You can read the book summaries and order here.

I am an organization serving survivors and want to be mentored or I am starting an organization to serve survivors and need guidance, who do I contact?

Contact the Wellspring Living Institute at institute@wellspringliving.org.